Experience

BT GROUP / Software Engineer

JANUARY 2024 - PRESENT, BIRMINGHAM

- Led development of a Flutter-based broadband diagnostics tool within the EE mobile app (10M+ downloads), enabling customers to self-diagnose connectivity issues and saving approximately £1,500 per week in customer support costs through increased self-service resolution.
- Designed and delivered a personalised in-app support experience within the EE app that automatically recommended relevant help articles based on customers' accounts, subscribed products, and services, helping customers resolve issues without contacting support.
- Designed and integrated REST APIs with backend diagnostic and provisioning services, enabling real-time broadband health checks, device provisioning, and personalised troubleshooting experiences.
- Collaborated closely with product managers, designers, backend engineers, and QA to deliver high-quality production releases in Agile environments.
- Implemented unit and widget testing to improve reliability and support continuous delivery of customer-facing features.
